Talk to me about

Date: Autumn Term 23rd October 2025

Our Learning Journey – This week we have been learning how to write a recount and how to measure objects using metric units.

What we wanted to learn:	What we did:	What could I do at home to help me with my learning?
Literacy To write expanded noun phrases.  To use similes and alliteration in our descriptive writing.  To use full sentences and edit independently.	We have read poems about dragons and have looked closely at the beautiful descriptions and vocabulary used in the book 'Tell me a Dragon'.  We have learnt about adjectives and nouns and have written fantastic noun phrases to describe a dragon.  We have written amazing sentences full of descriptive detail and edited our work independently as much as possible!	I could look at a picture of a dragon in a book or online and write labels using my senses. (Or I could draw my own dragon!) What might it smell like and why? What might it feel like and why? What colour is it? Does its habitat have something to do with its colour? Has this dragon adapted to its habitat? Has it grown bigger/smaller wings, longer talons or webbed feet? Does it breathe out something different instead of fire - why?
Mathematics I can measure length and height.  I can measure in metres and centimetres.	We went outside on the playground to draw lines using metre sticks. We compared objects which are longer and shorter. We used rulers and metre sticks to help us measure accurately. We answered word problems about length and height.	I could ask a grown up if we can get a ruler and measure different items and order them from longest to shortest.
